Foreign Curios Made at Home.

I have known the time when a bronze catch for a Japanese cooly's tobacco pouch was worth a great deal, and a man who had a piece of Japanese lacquer or a vase was a man above the common. Now they make Satsuma ware in America, and export Chinese bronze josses for popular worship from Birmingham to China. Curios? What's the use of paying big prices for curios when they can lie about them just as easy? I know a lady who has a beautiful set of china, which is the admiration of her friends. She says it came from Japan and is 800 years old. I know she bought it in Oakland, and it never saw Japan. Another has an old lamp that was supposed to have burnt in the Temple of Diana, goodness knows how many centuries ago. She fished it up in a second-hand store on Third street, and the proprietor of the store bought it with the effects of an Irishwoman who made a fortune in a mine and sold out all the old truck she brought from Ireland. I have myself seen the Japanese curio merchants pay $1 apiece for brass imitation Japanese hairpins, made in Birmingham, and sold by auction in Nagasaki, and I've seen the wily foreigner pay them $5 for the same pin and send it home as a great curio. Everything seems to grow plentiful, even the oldest kind of relics —San Francisco Chronicle.

OPPOSED TO RUM.

The Proceedings of the Prohibition National Convention in Session at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 31.—The prohibition national convention convened at 9 a. m. The committee on rules reported. The debate will be confined to five minutes to each delegate, no delegate to speak more than once on each question, the absent delegates to be voted in proportion to those present. The nominating speeches are to be confined to one for each state for each office. The motion to extend the debate on the suffrage plank to leading speakers to be selected by the two parties and confine the debate to them was voted down. The report was adopted.

The report of the committee on finance was presented. It recommends the adoption of the national committee's plan, already formulated, for an assessment by states, with the additional provision that voluntary contributions be taken in the convention.

The convention, under the leadership of J. G. Evans, of Illinois, next proceeded to the collection of voluntary contributions. A subscription of $1,000 from P. F. Sturtevant, of Boston, was followed a second later by another $1,000 from R. H. McDonald, of California; then came Jas. B. Hobbs, of Illinois, with $1,000, and W. J. Demerst, of New York, $1,000.

From this the amount went down to $500. The Missouri delegation pledged $1,000 as did also the delegate from Portland, Oregon and J. K. Johnson, Grand Rapids, Mich., like sums. The subscriptions, as they grow smaller in amount, increased in number till the total reached nearly $25,000.

Near the close of these proceedings great enthusiasm was created by a subscription of $2,000 by A. W. Wheeler, of Chicago. On the announcement that the Californians had aggregated $2,000 Mr. Sturtevant, of Boston, raised his to $2,000, and thus the excitement continued, each subscription being received with renewed applause and cheering. An incident received with perhaps the greatest applause was the announcement, by Mr. Dickie, of a subscription of $100 by a Catholic priest of St. Paul, whose annual salary, he announced, was $500, Rev. Father Mahone, who afterwards addressed the assembly.

The convention was invited to adjourn to Music hall, Cincinnati, Ohio, Friday evening, to attend a ratification meeting, at which Governor St. John and other prohibition leaders, including Dr. Frank, of New York, and Rev. Sam Small, of Georgia, are expected to speak. An adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock.

GOSSIP.

Having practically agreed on General Fisk for president on the ticket, the contest for the vice presidential nomination will be between Fontaine F. Fox, of Kentucky; John A. Brooks, of Missouri; E. L. Dohoney, of Texas, and Joshua Levering, of Maryland. It was also stated that Green Clay Smith and Geo W. Bain, of Kentucky, had withdrawn from the race.

The committee on platform held a long and exciting session. The committee wrestled with the situation until nearly midnight before agreement upon a woman suffrage plank, which was finally adopted. It is a compromise with an intellectual provision. It declares that the right to vote should not depend upon any accident of race, previous condition of servitude or sex, but that no person should have the right to vote that is unable read and write the English language, and that no foreigner should be allowed to vote who has not lived in this country three year.

The intellectual clause is expected to satisfy the southern delegates as it shuts out the ignorant colored women.

The tariff plank agreed upon is a complete straddle, and means nothing. It declares in favor of tariff reform and protection to American industry and says nothing about wool or tobacco.

M. W. SIMONS.

He Casts Off the Harrison Presidential Harness.

PLYMOUTH, May 31.—The delegate to the republican national convention who resides in this city, M. W. Simons, has announced that if Gresham develops more strength than Harrison he is for Gresham after the first ballot. He feels that the instructions are not binding on him.

Sawed Himself Off.

SEYMOUR, Ind., May 31.—James Blair's bees swarmed on the limb of a fruit tree. Procuring a saw James climbed the tree and proceeded to saw the limb off. Unfortunately he did not notice that he was sawing between himself and the tree. Result: A badly sprained back and several stings.

The Stranger Was Tired of Walking.

FIGHTING DEATH!

General Sheridan Recovers From His Relapse of Last Night and is Better To-Day.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The following bulletin was issued this morning as a result of the consultation: Since the alarming occurrence noted in the bulletin issued at 1:25 a. m. General Sheridan has slowly recovered from his prostration. His breathing has grown easier and his pulse stronger. He has slept pretty well during the last three hours.

9 a. m.—There has been no change since the above was issued.

At 11:10 Colonel Kellogg reported the general sleeping quietly all morning without artificial aid. There has been no recurrence of his severe coughing. The situation at this hour is rather more encouraging.

1 p. m.—Since the daily morning bulletin there has been no marked change in General Sheridan's condition, except possibly a shade of improvement. He has rested quietly, without pain and expresses himself as feeling well.

4 p. m.—General Sheridan's conditon practically unchanged.

JUDGE THURMAN.

He is Talked of as a Democratic Candidate for Vice-President.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The talk about Thurman for the democratic nomination for vice-president has not abated and is understood to be the program favored by Wm. L. Scott, of Pennsylvania, and inferentially by President Cleveland. Not much notice is taken of the interview with Judge Thurman, in which he declared he is not a candidate, &c. It is not regarded as evidence that he would not accept if the nomination should be given him without opposition.

RIVER DESPERADOES.

A Sheriff and His Posse Have a Desperate Battle With Them.

ST. LOUIS, May 31.—At Musieka Ferry, near St. Charles, on the Missouri river, the sheriff of St. Louis county and a posse of three deputies, endeavored to arrest a gang of river men, and a battle ensued, in which Deputy Ahlfeldt was fatally injured, Deputy John Monahan seriously shot through the bowels, and Deputy C. C. Garrett was hit three times by bullets, but not dangerously wounded.

The sheriff had warrants for the arrest of the river men, charging them with stealing a ferry. The river men escaped and are now at large.

GRAY WILL GET IT.

Mr. Morrison Says the Vice Presidency Will Come to Indiana.

ST. LOUIS, May 31.—Ex-Congressman W. R. Morrison, of Illinois, arrived in the city last night, and in a little chat with a reporter, said: "I don't see why the democratic national convention should be engaged longer than two days. There is nobody talked of for presidential candidate but Mr. Cleveland. The delegates will all come here to vote for him, and their first expression of opinion will be unanimous. He is stronger to-day with the party and with the people than he was four years ago, and we were very well pleased with him then. Of the doubtful states I have no special information, except from Indiana, which I believe the democrats will certainly carry."

Speaking of the vice-presidental candidates, Mr. Morrison said that he had never considered himself in the race at all. He supposed that the custom that had obtained in several conventions past would be followed, and that the party would go to Indiana for the second place on the ticket. He had never met Gov. Gray, but regarded him with considerable favor. As to Senator Thurman, Mr. Morrison thought that if he could be prevailed upon to accept the nomination he could probably have it.

A STRANGER KILLED.

The Limited Express on the Pittsburg Sends Tom Donovan Into Eternity.

This morning, an unknown man lost his life on the Pittsburg and Fort Wayne road in this city.

His name is supposed to be Thomas Donovan. He had in his pocket this address: "William Donovan, B. C., Second battalion, Safford regiment, Manchester, England."

The unfortunate fellow is a tramp, probably thirty years of age. He came into the city from the west and just east of the south depot he met a fellow tourist named William Shaw. They proceeded east towards Hanna street, when the incoming limited express hove in sight.

Shaw passed over a few tracks to ask a workman for a match. Turning about he was horrified to see his companion of a moment before in front of the flying train. The engine struck him and hurled him, a bleeding mass, some feet away. The right shoulder and left arm were broken, his body shocked and his skull was fractured, causing instant death.

Coroner Stellhorn is holding an inquest at Schueman & Schopman's mortuary rooms.

Donovan was a sailor and said he was going to Buffalo or Philadelphia to seek a situation.

It is surmised that he committed suicide, for he had plenty warning of the approach of the train, which was in charge of Conductor Douglass and Engineer Glenn. The train arrives at 5 o'clock in the morning.

OUR STATE INSTITUTION.

Bids Opened This Morning for the Feeble-Minded School.

The board of trustees of the school for Feeble-Minded youth met this morning at the office of the architects, Messrs. Wing & Mahurin, and opened the bids for the new building to be erected near this city. The following are the bids:

Miller & Schele,	with additions	$43,875 00
" "	without "	26,845 00
Watts & Barrett,	with additions	38,475 00
" "	without "	22,527 30
Jacob Baltes,	with additions	38,072 00
" "	without "	21,500 00
Wm. Moellering,	with additions	37,027 05
" "	without "	21,476 00

William Moellering, being the lowest bidder will receive the contract, and the contract will be signed at the meeting of the board Monday next. The bidders were all from this city, with the exception of Watts & Barrett, who reside at Knightstown, and were the builders of the state reform school at that place. The building must be completed by the first of January, and will in all probability be commenced next week. The amount appropriated by the legislature is so small that it is thought the building will not accomodate the school, which at present numbers 232 scholars and teachers. To show how rapidly this school is increasing in attendance, we only need state that one year ago there were only sixty-nine scholars and teachers in the institution. If this next legislature encourages it by proper appropriations, as it deserves, it will increase more rapidly than ever in attendance, and be one of the prominent institutions of the state. It is estimated that there are almost seventeen hundred idiotic and epileptic children in Indiana.

Deny the Story.

PITTSBURG, May 31.—Railway officials in this city ridicule the story that originated in New York to the effect that the Pennsylvania railroad management was negotiating for the purchase of the Chicago Burlington and Quincy railroad. The rumor is supposed to have been started from the fact that Vice-president James McCrea and General Passenger Agent E. A. Ford, of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, have been making a tour of the far west. When Mr. McCrea was asked about the matter to-day, he said: "The story is ridiculous. There is no foundation for it."

Governor Gray Makes a Manly Statement.

CHICAGO, May 31.—An Indianapolis special to the Globe says Governor Gray has at last vouchsafed a statement relative to the Washington Post's charges against him. He says they are inspired by personal and political enemies at the capital, the know-nothingism charges, he says, were exploded long ago, when the foreign-born citizens of his native town, Union City, joined in a published card exonerating him completely. He does not deny being a republican up to 1872, but thinks this will cut no figure with the convention.

THE MILLS TARIFF BILL.

The Gazette and News affect great alarm at the prospects of the passage of Mills tariff bill. The Gazette, of course, considers it a free trade measure and foresees great disaster to the laboring people, whose tax burdens and cost of living the bill aims to lighten, and prostration to the pursuits whose unnatural and undue advantages it seeks to mildly check.

The News is annoyed at the tariff tinkering of men whom it considers incapable of handling so difficult a question.

There is no need of criticism on the Mills tariff bill, since all of the parties are agreed that a reduction of federal taxation is imperatively necessary.

It will not do to term it a free trade measure, for it is almost too conservative. It will not alarm the voters to question the capacity of congress to cope with the issues, since they have practically done so to the satisfaction of the democratic party and a very large and intelligent portion of the republican party, not to speak of the intelligent people of other political beliefs.

Let us look at the tariff measure now before congress and see what it is:

The Mills bill proposes to cut off, in round numbers, $78,000,000 of the surplus revenue. Of this amount $54,000,000 is taken from the tariff and $24,000,000 from internal taxes on tobacco. It adds to the free list flax, hemp, jute, tin plate, wool and a few other articles.

The present average rate of the tariff on dutiable goods is 47.10 per cent. The Mills bill would leave it at 40 per cent. The present average rate on articles affected by the bill is 54.16 per cent. The proposed rate would leave it on these articles at 33.36 per cent.

This is the bill that is called a "Free Trade" measure! It leaves the average duty 10 per cent. higher than it was under the Morrill tariff of 1862, and within two points of what the average was in 1881 when a republican tariff commission recommended and a republican congress pretended to make a reduction of 20 per cent., which would have left the average duty 33.60 per cent.

The schedules of luxuries in the present tariff are left untouched. All the reductions are made on the essentials of manufacturers or the necessities of the people. It will be difficult to make intelligent voters believe that such a measure is of a "free trade" character, or that it will make them poorer or bring disaster to trade and commerce to lightly cut off tax burdens for which the government has no earthly, honest or legitimate use.

It is placing a small estimate on the intelligence of the reading public to assert that a protective tariff compels an employer to pay high wages, or that working men are benefitted by a tax that rolls up great fortunes for the few at the expense of the many, who are subjected to every possible extortion by these self same protected industries in the form of trusts and combinations organized solely to maintain unnatural prices and levy tribute on a credulous public who are absolutely at their mercy, with trust prices on one side and a protective tariff on the other to grind them down and rob them of the fruits of their labor.

All the Cities Err.

Columbia City Post.

The re-enumeration of school children in Fort Wayne reduced the number about 5,000. This means a difference of $12,000 in Allen county's apportionment, which amount will be distributed to every county in the state. It may prove a good thing for country towns—this stirring up—for there is no doubt but that all the large cities in the state have been to some extent guilty of the same work as that done in Fort Wayne.

Neither mind nor body can act healthfully, if the blood is vitiated. Cleanse the vital current from impurities by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This remedy purifies the blood, recruits the wasted energies, and restores health to the debilitated system.

THE NEW RAILROAD SHOPS.

The New York, Mahoning and Western road, or the United States Central, as it will be styled, is coming to Fort Wayne in spite of any predictions to the contrary, or the opposition that is always offered to great projects.

It will not cost the city or its people one penny to secure the line, but the company say, and rightly so, we need great shop plants; what will you bid for the improvements. A disinterested and trustworthy committee report their investigations and advise the people that the offerings of the company are worth far more than they ask—$200,000.

There ought to be no undue haste in this important proceeding, neither should the personal interests of any one be permitted to influence citizens against the shop projects of a road that is entirely reliable, honest and of such importance to Fort Wayne that the loss of its workshops would be a calamity far greater, indeed, than was the loss of the Baltimore and Ohio road and its shops, which are now located at Garrett, Ind.

Shop plants like this company offer are valuable and find big markets. The officers of the road are doing things in a hurry and they, in a business-like way, want to know what they can expect from Fort Wayne. It requires four weeks advance notice to secure a vote on public questions and as the company desires to begin work on their shops before winter, they urge prompt action.

It is for the people to say and THE SENTINEL feels that when they consult their best interests, the main shops of the United States Central line will be located in Fort Wayne.

A BLOW AT MONOPOLISTS.

The Ways and Means Committee Favors a Tax on Their Products.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The democratic members of the committee on ways and means have had under consideration the amendment proposed by Mr. Springer, of Illinois, to place upon the free list such articles on the dutiable list as are controlled as to their product and price by trusts and combinations, but did not report upon the subject to the caucus. It is understood that the committee is adverse to the proposition, although it recognise the necessity of legislation which will prevent the perpetuation of the spoil system. The argument against the Springer amendment is that it will be prejudicial to the interests of manufacturers of articles who have not entered into trusts. It is as yet undecided whether the internal tax will be levied to the full extent of the import duty, it being considered by some that a tax to the extent of 50 per cent. of the customs duties will be sufficient to prevent the formation of combinations.

A Great Battle

Is continually going on in the human system. The demon of impure blood strives to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims to the grave. A good reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to defend one's self, drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore peace and bodily health for many years. Try this peculiar medicine.

The Perfection

Of the age in the medical line is the liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Co., San Francisco, Cal. It is agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach, harmless in its nature, painless yet prompt and thorough in its action. For sale by Thieme & Gross.

Give Ely's Cream Balm a trial. This justly celebrated remedy for the cure of catarrh, hay fever, cold in the head, etc., can be obtained of any reputable druggist, and may be relied upon as a safe and pleasant remedy for the above complaints and will give immediate relief. It is not a liquid, snuff or powder, has no offensive odor, and can be used at any time with good results, as thousands can testify, among them some of the attaches of this office."—Spirit of the Times.

Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. mar-17-1y

SOME towns on the Pacific coast having boasted of the honesty of their officials, the remark was made that probably the remote location of Canada exercised a restraining influence.

You Carry

A whole medicine chest in your pocket, with one box of Ayer's Pills. As they operate directly on the stomach and bowels, they indirectly affect every other organ of the body. When the stomach is out of order, the head is affected, digestion fails, the blood becomes impoverished, and you fall an easy victim to any prevalent disease. Miss M. E. Boyle, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., puts the whole truth in a nutshell, when she says: "I use no other medicine than Ayer's Pills. They are all that any one needs, and just splendid to save money in doctors' bills."

Here is an instance of

who lost his medicine chest, but, having at hand a bottle of Ayer's Pills, found himself fully equipped.—J. Arrison, M. D., of San José, Cal., writes:

"Some three years ago, by the merest accident, I was forced, so to speak, to prescribe Ayer's Cathartic Pills for several sick men among a party of engineers in the Sierra Nevada mountains, my medicine chest having been lost in crossing a mountain torrent. I was surprised and delighted at the action of the Pills, so much so, indeed, that I was led to a further trial of them, as well as of your Cherry Pectoral and Sarsaparilla. I have nothing but praise to offer in their favor."

John W. Brown, M. D., of Oceana, W. Va., writes: "I prescribe Ayer's Pills in my practice, and find them excellent. I urge their general use in families."

T. E. Hastings, M. D., of Baltimore, Md., writes: "That Ayer's Pills do control and cure the complaints for which they are designed, is as conclusively proven to me as anything possibly can be. They are the best cathartic and aperient within the reach of the profession."

Only a few of the above-named symptoms are likely to be present in any one case. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is so deceptive, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood by physicians.

By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases of Catarrh, "cold in the head," Coryza, and Catarrhal Headache.
Sold by druggists everywhere; 50 cents.

"Untold Agony from Catarrh."

PROF. W. HAUSSNER, the famous mesmerist, of Ithaca, N. Y., writes: "Some 5 years ago I suffered untold agony from chronic nasal catarrh. My family physician gave me up as incurable and said I must die. My case was such a bad one, that every day, towards sunset, my voice would become so hoarse I could hardly speak above a whisper. In the morning my coughing and clearing of my throat would almost strangle me. By the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, in three months, I was a well man, and the cure has been permanent."

"Constantly Hawking and Spitting."

THOMAS J. RUSHING, Esq., 2[illegible] Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I was a victim of catarrh for three years. At times I could hardly breathe, and was constantly hawking and spitting, and for the last eight months could not breathe through the nostrils. I thought nothing could be done for me. Lately, I was advised to try Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and I am now a well man. I believe it to be the only sure remedy for catarrh now manufactured, and one has only to give it a fair trial to experience astounding results and a permanent cure."

Three Bottles Cure Catarrh.

ELI ROBBINS, Rumun P. O., Columbia Co., Pa., says: "My daughter had catarrh when she was five years old, very badly. I saw Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy advertised, and procured a bottle for her, and soon saw that it helped her; a third bottle effected a permanent cure. She is now eighteen years old and sound and hearty."

NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE.

Remarkable Success of a Commission to Africa—Our Great Newspapers Becoming Famous for Skill, Enterprise and Daring.

The splendid enterprise and "go-ahead-ativeness" of our wonderful contemporary, The Daily Hair-raiser, is again made manifest by the successful issue of the commission, sent by it to South Africa, to determine conclusively the bottom facts in a most important question relating not only to Natural History but to Public Health and Welfare.

It has been a well known fact for thousands of years that the ostrich had the remarkable ability to not only eat, but to easily digest, the most crude and usually uneatable articles—such as glass, spoons, bits of metal, sharp sticks, stones, stove lids, iron rails, etc., etc. The Daily Hair-raiser, therefore, determined to get at the real secret of the ostrich's peculiar digestive power, and has succeeded most wonderfully.

Having found an ostrich, after a long and perilous voyage across the Hudson, and a dangerous trip of 20 minutes on the elevated railroad, the reporter found the ostrich in the Central Park, making a hearty meal of two pecks of horse shoe nails, just given him. The following remarkable interview resulted:

Reporter.—"Would you object, Mrs. Ostrich, to tell the readers of the Daily Hair-raiser the real secret of your wonderful appetite, and still more wonderful digestion?

Ostrich.—"Certainly not, young man, but you must be away behind the times if you don't already know. It is simple, very simple. A missionary from Connecticut (who was unfortunately eaten, and can't swear to what I tell you,) brought a lot of Scotch Oats Essence to Africa many years ago, and we all took it. From that time dates our remarkable appetite and wonderful digestive powers."

My friend you can have

and eat and digest anything, if you will use Scotch Oats Essence. Worth $50 a bottle. $1 will buy it from any druggist.

Scotch Oats Essence is the only advertised remedy in the world that gives an absolute $10,000 forfeit guarantee upon each bottle that it does not contain a particle of opium, morphine, or any other narcotic.

How to Dance the Carmagnole.

The "Carmagnole," it will be remembered, is the song sung by the old women, the tricoteuses, as they danced around the scaffold in 1793. It is a song of fierce and fearful import. It's old words were revolutionary, but new verses have been written that have an economic rather than a political bearing. They breathe war to the middleman, the "sweater," to those who build fortunes with the labor of others, and do not themselves produce anything. To dance the "Carmagnole" effectively it is generally customary to select some youth with a loud, sinister, contralto voice. The youth takes his stand on the stage or high platform. A woman with regular features, tall, commanding figure, is then called upon to take the lead in the dance. It is preferable that she should have a tight-fitting, severe, plain black dress, devoid of any sort of ornaments. If she has abundant fair tresses, these are allowed to fall down the back. This simplicity may be taken as a homage paid to the naturalism that prevades modern schools of thought. The black dress is emblemic of mourning for the brothers that still languish in prison or who have fallen behind the barricades, but perhaps the red scarf of the Commune is loosely fastended across the breast, and, in any case a Phrygian cap, after the model worn in 1793, with wild tassels dangling from either side, is carefully poised on the head, and this completes a very effective and classical costume.

A woman thus dressed forms the center of the dance. She stands absolutely alone and does not deign to take a partner. Her partner is the huge red flag which, with strong arm and determined gesture, she holds aloft. The boy with the sinister voice then commences to sing the first verse of the "Cormagnole." There may be several thousand persons present, and yet the silence is such, the attention so intense, that every breath is drawn with precaution for fear of making a noise. But when the verse had been sung and the chorus is reached it is taken up by the people at first with a slow, low murmur. The central figure commences to turn and a circle of four men and women holding hands go around her in a contrary direction. Then there is another larger and yet another still larger circle, till the largest of all touches the wall on either side of the hall. These circles within circles all go round in reverse directions; the first to the left, the second to the right, the third to the left, the fourth to the right, and so on; while the woman in black with her red flag standing in the center, turns slowly round and forms a living pivot. As the crowd turns, it sings louder and louder, till at last in frenzied excitement, what with shouting and stamping, they make the walls shake, the windows vibrate, and the very stones themselves tremble on their foundations, and seem to participate in the revolutionary dance. It is at once an impressive and a threatening sight. It is at such moments that one may realize the excitability of the French people; and on the whole, if I were a Jay Gould or a Rothschild, I should prefer not to be recognized while the "Carmagnole" was sung.—Paris letter in Philadelphia Telegraph.

Lucrative Calling for Women.

Women of muscle stand quite as good if not a better chance of making money than women of mind. There are in this city several brawny specimens of the sex, usually designated as soft, who make from $60 to $70 a week as "scrub ladies." One of them, whose house is on Mulberry street, has in her charge the offices of twenty well-known professional men. For cleaning and taking care of these she receives $3 each per week. She employs two able-bodied assistants, who receives $1 a day each. Allowing $3 a week for the use of soap, brooms, etc., it will be seen that this enterprising mistress of the brush and pail clears $45 a week.—New York Press.

Passenger (to stranger)—Minister of the Gospel, I imagine, sir? Stranger—Yes. sir. I have been a minister of the Gospel for forty-two yeras, but I expect to retire soon. Passenger—That is a sensible move, sir. I think when a man has made money enough in his business he ought to get out of it and enjoy himself.—New York Sun.

A Thief Caught by a Bear.

The following, which is said to have happened near Los Angeles, is too good to be lost. An Italian, who was traveling through the country with a bear which he had trained to wrestle and dance, stopped before a farmer's house late one afternoon, and after amusing the family with his performances, obtained permission to stay all night. The bear was placed in the barn for safe keeping. During the night the family were aroused by a terrible noise in the barn. Some one was screaming, "Murder! Help!" and apparently engaged in a struggle for his life.

The farmer hastened to the spot, followed by the Italian and others of the house, and found the tame bear with a man in his embrace, hugging him tightly, while the poor fellow struggled frantically to escape. The bear was muzzled and could do no serious injury, though the man was very uncomfortably situated.

The man proved to be a dishonest butcher who had come to the barn to steal a fine calf. In the darkness he had stumbled over the bear, who had seized him and held him fast. The Italian, learning how matters stood, called out, "Hug him, Jack," and the bear continued to hug him unmercifully until the farmer concluded that he had been sufficiently punished, when he was released. The story soon spread abroad, and the butcher left the neighborhood to escape the ridicule to which it subjected him.—San Pedro Clipper.

A Pointer for Drummers.

Two fresh New York drummers had an experience on an Erie train at Carrollton, Pa., recently not soon to be forgotten. They were dressed like swells, and saw two extremely pretty girls get on the train at a way station. The seat behind the girls was vacant, and the drummers quickly got into it. They went to work at once. The girls affected not to notice the mashers. The attention of every passenger was directed to the young men.

Becoming bolder, they leaned over the back of the seat and whispered to the young women. One girl was a tall and well-formed blonde, with hair the tint of a June sunset. The other a bewitching brunette with bangs, was short, stout, and full of animal life. Vainly did the drummers play their best cards. The game refused to be bagged. Just as the situation was becoming unendurable a uniformed trainman popped his head into the car and sang out: "Carrollton! Change for Bradford."

With flushed faces and eyes that sparkled with indignation the young women jumped to their feet. The drummers jumped up, too. The blonde turned, and, in a tone heard all over the car, said: "I hope I never will have to ride in front of two such fools again."

Out on the long station platform a short and athletic young man was waiting. One of the young ladies kissed him. Then there was a whispered consultation. The athletic young man left the ladies and entered the car. Addressing himself to the mashers, he said:

"A gentleman wants to see you outside."

"We have no business here, fellow," languidly lisped one of the fellows.

"Well, then, if you will not go out I will do the business up right here."

And he did. His two fists flew out like lightning. The claret was drawn from the noses of both of the dudes, blood was scattered over their gay low-cut waistcoats, and a dark spot began to form under two eyes. The train pulled out, the athletic young man jumped off amid the cheers of the passengers, and the drummers slunk into the smoking car and washed their faces.

The athletic young man was Eddie Boyle, who keeps a hotel and store at Carrollton. The brunette was his wife, the blonde his sister.

Odd Traits of Locomotive Engines.

"Locomotives are cranks," said an old engineer the other day. "Why, I remember two engines that came from the same shop about a year ago, were made from the same castings, were put together by the same workmen; but one of the two engines wouldn't budge an inch faster than fifteen miles an hour, while her companion could easily roll off sixty miles an hour under half the steam it took to send the other engine fifteen miles an hour. We crowded every pound of steam upon the fifteen-miler; but no, she wouldn't go an inch faster, although she would draw four more heavily loaded freight cars than the engine that rolled up sixty miles an hour to her credit.

"Suddenly the fifteen-miler came to a dead stop between stations, and there she stuck and could'nt be made to move again. Almost at the same time the sixty-miler, on another portion of the road, came to a dead stop also, and she couldn't be made to move. Both engines were drawn back to the shop, were taken apart, examined, put together again; but no, they could not be made to move, even under 150 pounds of steam. Stop running they would, and stop running they did, although both of them are not a year old. Finally they were broken up and sold for old junk. It is not always the bright, new engine you see that is the best. In the round house we have some old tubs, out of fashion, that can and do beat the new engines in speed and drawing capacity every day, and are always reliable.—Safety Valve.

George Herring, of the Olds wheel works, failed to report for duty this morning. He sent word to his foreman that he was going to be married this evening.

The employes of White's wheel works turned out in a body yesterday to attend the funeral of Delmar Feltz. The deceased was an employe of that establishment.

Will Martin, formerly of the Pennington machine works, left at noon to-day for Los Angeles, Cal., where he will accept a position in one of the railroad shops of the city.

The annual report of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road shows that its income for the year 1887 was $11,269,953.10, and operating and maintaining expenses, $6,988,027.86.

The machine department of the Bass works are now running a full force of ten night men and this part of the works is kept as busy as they can be. The night force has been working for over a week.

Fish stories were numerous among the shop employes this morning. Almost every other person our reporter met in his early morning rounds either had a fish story or talked about the games of base ball that were played yesterday.

Otto Benz, who is working on the night force in the Bass machine shops, met with a very cold water mishap last night. He had occasion to go into the boiler room, which is quite dark, after something and while groping around fell into a huge tank of water and was thoroughly soaked with water up to the waist. He donned an old pair of pants and remained at work until morning. Such episodes as these are amusing to the night gang at the Bass works.

It was reported early this morning that the man killed at the coal wharf by the Pittsburg fast train was Ed Loomis, the assistant electrician and the well-known employe of the Pennsylvania company. Our reporter heard this among the first rumors in regard to the accident, but when he reached the shops he found Ed alive and well and one of the healthiest-looking corpses that could be imagined. Ed says the man killed was not himself and was so emphatic in his assertion that our reporter was forced to believe his statements.

The record of train accidents in the United States, published monthly by the Railroad Gazette, shows that in April there was a total of 136 accidents, in which forty-two persons were killed and 191 injured. The most fruitful source seems to have been collisions, which is certainly not very complimentary to the men in charge. Eighteen accidents occurred through misplaced switches, three being malicious. Of the forty-two persons killed, thirty-three were employes on the roads. In the accidents, forty six passenger trains were involved, and ninety freight and construction trains. In comparison with last year's accident report there were increases in every item, including number of persons killed.

An old Pennsylvania railroad locomotive has been remodeled and fitted with a device for burning gas made from petroleum. There is a sheet-iron storage tank with a capacity of four and one-half barrels on the rear of the tender, and the oil passes from this into a rectangular retort with a fire box under it. A small vertical boiler, with thirteen tubes, is in connection with the fire box of the retort and completes the arrangement for manufacturing the gas. The gas and also two steam jets are introduced into the locomotive fire box. The first trial of the apparatus showed that some modification of details was required, but that is was possible to get up steam in much less time than with coal, and that the steam pressure could be easily maintained by the gas.

For the past week, Messrs. Wm. Rich & Co. have been busily engaged in remodeling their ice box, by removing the tar paper from walls. There was some complaint from the fact that the odor of the paper affected the meat. This trouble is now entirely obviated and a fresh stock of meat put in. To-morrow they will receive their sixth consignment of beef from Chicago, which they guarantee to be the finest meat in the market. They will also receive a lot of trout and white fish for Friday's trade.

THE NEW TRUNK LINE.

Points About the New York, Mahoning and Western Road Coming to Fort Wayne.

The proposition of the New York, Mahoning and Western road to locate its main construction shops in this city, was freely discussed last night and is still the topic. Every one concedes that the company mean business, and yet others hesitate to vote aid in view of past experiences.

All people concede that in view of the oft recurring and spasmodic reductions in the railroad shops and manufactories, the city ought to substantially encourage a movement to secure shops of the great dimensions offered, for with these advantages mechanics would not be forced out of town to seek employment at each dismissal or suspension in this or some other shop. It would enlarge our resources and possibilities to such an extent as to ensure safety to the toiling masses at all times.

Speaking of the new road the Ottawa Sentinel says:

J. M. Ashley & Son, of Toledo, have the contract for furnishing 200,000 ties, and will deliver them immediately, the first forty car loads having arrived at Ottawa this week.

The new road, when completed, will run so straight that at no point between New York and Omaha will not vary twenty-five miles from the forty-first parallell.

The contracts call for the completion of the road for a distance of one hundred and eighty-eight miles—from Plymouth, Ohio, to Fort Wayne, Ind.—by October 1, 1888.

Omaha is the objective point of the New York, Mahoning and Western railroad westward.

The first locomotive for the new road arrived in Ottawa last week and will be used in hauling the construction train on this part of the line.

The King Bridge Co., of Toledo, has the contract for building several bridges in this county for the road. On its present line, four bridges will be required over the Blanchard river.

Last week several car loads of mules, plows, scrapers, &c., arrived at Ottawa from the south to be used in the construction of the new railroad, and during the present week another train load will arrive.

Two car loads of negroes arrived at Ottawa last week from Memphis, Tenn., to work on the new railroad.

The work of grading is progressing rapidly, and iron enough to lay twenty-five miles of the road has arrived at Ottawa during the past eight days. The failure of the arrival of ties has interfered with the work of track laying for a few days.

A million dollars' worth of steel rails has been purchased to lay the track from Red Bank, Pa., to Fort Wayne, Ind.

Ottawa being the base of supplies and point of commencement of the work on the new railroad, has made things remarkably lively for the past week, the town being filled with strangers and every branch of industry and trade is moving at a rapid rate.

ON THE DOOR STEP.

An Infant is Left on the Door Step of Mr. Philip Rupp Last Night.

It was near the midnight hour, and most of the residents of East Creighton avenue had retired to sleep, when a young woman carrying an infant in her arms came up Hanna street and turned onto Creighton avenue. She was poorly clad, and as she wandered along her eyes watched each residence as she passed, looking, it seemed to the watcher, for the home of a friend. Finally she paused in front of the home of Mr. Philip Rupp, 128 East Creighton avenue. She entered the gate with a timid air, approached the house and laid the bundle that she carried in her arms upon the door step, and then fled out the gate and up the deserted street with the fleetness of a frightened fawn.

There was a watcher of her actions from the window above. It was Mr. Martin Lill, the bartender for Mr. Ph. Graf, who boards at the house and who was just retiring for the night. He saw her every movement, but did not dream the object of her mission until, looking out of the window, he saw the little babe upon the door step.

He described the woman to THE SENTINEL reporter, this morning, as he saw her in the bright starlight, as young and fair, but dressed in a common old calico dress, but says that she was a person he never saw before. He hurriedly aroused Mr. and Mrs. Graf and the little baby girl was taken into the house and is now being tenderly cared for. It is a beautiful child, about two weeks old. Mr. and Mrs. Graf do not desire to keep the babe, and it will be turned over to the proper authorities unless some of their neighbors should see fit to adopt it.

The woman is undoubtedly some misguided unfortunate, who, to conceal her shame, sought in this way to secure a home for her illegitimate child.

Foreign Curios Made at Home.

I have known the time when a bronze catch for a Japanese cooly's tobacco pouch was worth a great deal, and a man who had a piece of Japanese lacquer or a vase was a man above the common. Now, they make Satsuma ware in America, and export Chinese bronze josses for popular worship from Birmingham to China. Curios? What's the use of paying big prices for curios when they can lie about them just as easy? I know a lady who has a beautiful set of china, which is the admiration of her friends. She says it came from Japan and is 800 years old. I know she bought it in Oakland, and it never saw Japan. Another has an old lamp that was supposed to have burnt in the Temple of Diana, goodness knows how many centuries ago. She fished it up in a second-hand store on Third street, and the proprietor of the store bought it with the effects of an Irishwoman who made a fortune in a mine and sold out all the old truck she brought from Ireland. I have myself seen the Japanese curio merchants pay $1 apiece for brass imitation Japanese hairpins, made in Birmingham, and sold by auction in Nagasaki, and I've seen the wily foreigner pay them $5 for the same pin and send it home as a great curio. Everything seems to grow plentiful, even the oldest kind of relics.—San Francisco Chronicle.

OPPOSED TO RUM.

The Proceedings of the Prohibition National Convention in Session at Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 31.—The prohibition national convention convened at 9 a. m. The committee on rules reported. The debate will be confined to five minutes to each delegate, no delegate to speak more than once on each question, the absent delegates to be voted in proportion to those present. The nominating speeches are to be confined to one for each state for each office. The motion to extend the debate on the suffrage plank to leading speakers to be selected by the two parties and confine the debate to them was voted down. The report was adopted.

The report of the committee on finance was presented. It recommends the adoption of the national committee's plan, already formulated, for an assessment by states, with the additional provision that voluntary contributions be taken in the convention.

The convention, under the leadership of J. G. Evans, of Illinois, next proceeded to the collection of voluntary contributions. A subscription of $1,000 from P. F. Sturtevant, of Boston, was followed a second later by another $1,000 from B. H. McDonald, of California; then came Jas. B. Hobbs, of Illinois, with $1,000, and W. J. Demerst, of New York, $1,000.

From this the amount went down to $500. The Missouri delegation pledged $1,000 as did also the delegate from Portland, Oregon and J. K. Johnson, Grand Rapids, Mich., like sums. The subscriptions, as they grew smaller in amount, increased in number till the total reached nearly $25,000.

Near the close of these proceedings great enthusiasm was created by a subscription of $2,000 by A. W. Wheeler, of Chicago. On the announcement that the Californians had aggregated $2,000 Mr. Sturtevant, of Boston, raised his to $2,000, and thus the excitement continued, each subscription being received with renewed applause and cheering. An incident received with perhaps the greatest applause was the announcement, by Mr. Dickie, of a subscription of $100 by a Catholic priest of St. Paul, whose annual salary, he announced, was $500, Rev. Father Mahone, who afterwards addressed the assembly.

The convention was invited to adjourn to Music hall, Cincinnati, Ohio, Friday evening, to attend a ratification meeting, at which Governor St. John and other prohibition leaders, including Dr. Frank, of New York, and Rev. Sam Small, of Georgia, are expected to speak. An adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock.

GOSSIP.

Having practically agreed on General Fisk for president on the ticket, the contest for the vice presidential nomination will be between Fontaine F. Fox, of Kentucky; John A. Brooks, of Missouri; E. L. Dohoney, of Texas, and Joshua Levering, of Maryland. It was also stated that Green Clay Smith and Geo. W. Bain, of Kentucky, had withdrawn from the race.

The committee on platform held a long and exciting session. The committee wrestled with the situation until nearly midnight before agreement upon a woman suffrage plank, which was finally adopted. It is a compromise with an intellectual proviaion. It declares that the right to vote should not depend upon any accident of race, previous condition of servitude or sex, but that no person should have the right to vote that is unable read and write the English language, and that no foreigner should be allowed to vote who has not lived in this country three year.

The intellectual clause is expected to satisfy the southern delegates as it shuts out the ignorant colored women.

The tariff plank agreed upon is a complete straddle, and means nothing. It declares in favor of tariff reform and protection to American industry and says nothing about wool or tobacco.

M. W. SIMONS.

He Casts Off the Harrison Presidential Harness.

PLYMOUTH, May 31.—The delegate to the republican national convention who resides in this city, M. W. Simons, has announced that if Gresham develops more strength than Harrison he is for Gresham after the first ballot. He feels that the instructions are not binding on him.

FIGHTING DEATH!

General Sheridan Recovers From His Relapse of Last Night and is Better To-Day.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The following bulletin was issued this morning as a result of the consultation: Since the alarming occurrence noted in the bulletin issued at 1:25 a. m. General Sheridan has slowly recovered from his prostration. His breathing has grown easier and his pulse stronger. He has slept pretty well during the last three hours.

9 a. m.—There has been no change since the above was issued.

At 11:10 Colonel Kellogg reported the general sleeping quietly all morning without artificial aid. There has been no recurrence of his severe coughing. The situation at this hour is rather more encouraging.

1 p. m.—Since the daily morning bulletin there has been no marked change in General Sheridan's condition, except possibly a shade of improvement. He has rested quietly, without pain and expresses himself as feeling well.

4 p. m.—General Sheridan's condition practically unchanged.

JUDGE THURMAN.

He is Talked of as a Democratic Candidate for Vice-President.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The talk about Thurman for the democratic nomination for vice-president has not abated and is understood to be the program favored by Wm. L. Scott, of Pennsylvania, and inferentially by President Cleveland. Not much notice is taken of the interview with Judge Thurman, in which he declared he is not a candidate, &c. It is not regarded as evidence that he would not accept if the nomination should be given him without opposition.

RIVER DESPERADOES.

A Sheriff and His Posse Have a Desperate Battle With Them.

ST. LOUIS, May 31.—At Musicks Ferry, near St. Charles, on the Missouri river, the sheriff of St. Louis county and a posse of three deputies, endeavored to arrest a gang of river men, and a battle ensued, in which Deputy Ahlfeldt was fatally injured, Deputy John Monahan seriously shot through the bowels, and Deputy C. C. Garrett was hit three times by bullets, but not dangerously wounded.

The sheriff had warrants for the arrest of the river men, charging them with stealing a ferry. The river men escaped and are now at large.

GRAY WILL GET IT.

Mr. Morrison Says the Vice Presidency Will Come to Indiana.

ST. LOUIS, May 31.—Ex-Congressman W. R. Morrison, of Illinois, arrived in the city last night, and in a little chat with a reporter, said: "I don't see why the democratic national convention should be engaged longer than two days. There is nobody talked of for presidential candidate but Mr. Cleveland. The delegates will all come here to vote for him, and their first expression of opinion will be unanimous. He is stronger to-day with the party and with the people than he was four years ago, and we were very well pleased with him then. Of the doubtful states I have no special information, except from Indiana, which I believe the democrats will certainly carry."

Speaking of the vice-presidental candidates, Mr. Morrison said that he had never considered himself in the race at all. He supposed that the custom that had obtained in several conventions past would be followed, and that the party would go to Indiana for the second place on the ticket. He had never met Gov. Gray, but regarded him with considerable favor. As to Senator Thurman, Mr. Morrison thought that if he could be prevailed upon to accept the nomination he could probably have it.

A STRANGER KILLED.

The Limited Express on the Pittsburg Sends Tom Donovan Into Eternity.

This morning, an unknown man lost his life on the Pittsburg and Fort Wayne road in this city.

His name is supposed to be Thomas Donovan. He had in his pocket this address: "William Donovan, B. C., Second battalion, Safford regiment, Manchester, England."

The unfortunate fellow is a tramp, probably thirty years of age. He came into the city from the west and just east of the south depot he met a fellow tourist named William Shaw. They proceeded east towards Hanna street, when the incoming limited express hove in sight.

Shaw passed over a few tracks to ask a workman for a match. Turning about he was horrified to see his companion of a moment before in front of the flying train. The engine struck him and hurled him, a bleeding mass, some feet away. The right shoulder and left arm were broken, his body shocked and his skull was fractured, causing instant death.

Coroner Stellhorn is holding an inquest at Schueman & Schopman's mortuary rooms.

Donovan was a sailor and said he was going to Buffalo or Philadelphia to seek a situation.

It is surmised that he committed suicide, for he had plenty warning of the approach of the train, which was in charge of Conductor Douglass and Engineer Glenn. The train arrives at 5 o'clock in the morning.

Wm. Moellering,	with additions	37,027 05
" "	without "	31,470 00

William Moellering, being the lowest bidder will receive the contract, and the contract will be signed at the meeting of the board Monday next. The bidders were all from this city, with the exception of Watts & Barrett, who reside at Knightstown, and were the builders of the state reform school at that place. The building must be completed by the first of January, and will in all probability be commenced next week. The amount appropriated by the legislature is so small that it is thought the building will not accomodate the school, which at present numbers 232 scholars and teachers. To show how rapidly this school is increasing in attendance, we only need state that one year ago there were only sixty-nine scholars and teachers in the institution. If this next legislature encourages it by proper appropriations, as it deserves, it will increase more rapidly than ever in attendance, and be one of the prominent institutions of the state. It is estimated that there are almost seventeen hundred idiotic and epileptic children in Indiana.

Deny the Story.

PITTSBURG, May 31.—Railway officials in this city ridicule the story that originated in New York to the effect that the Pennsylvania railroad management was negotiating for the purchase of the Chicago Burlington and Quincy railroad. The rumor is supposed to have been started from the fact that Vice-president James McCrea and General Passenger Agent E. A. Ford, of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, have been making a tour of the far west. When Mr. McCrea was asked about the matter to-day, he said: "The story is ridiculous. There is no foundation for it."

Governor Gray Makes a Manly Statement.

CHICAGO, May 31.—An Indianapolis special to the Globe says Governor Gray has at last vouchsafed a statement relative to the Washington Post's charges against him. He says they are inspired by personal and political enemies at the capital, the know-nothingism charges, he says, were exploded long ago, when the foreign-born citizens of his native town, Union City, joined in a published card exonerating him completely. He does not deny being a republican up to 1872, but thinks this will cut no figure with the convention.

THE MILLS TARIFF BILL.

The Gazette and News affect great alarm at the prospects of the passage of Mills tariff bill. The Gazette, of course, considers it a free trade measure and foresees great disaster to the laboring people, whose tax burdens and cost of living the bill aims to lighten, and prostration to the pursuits whose unnatural and undue advantages it seeks to mildly check.

The News is annoyed at the tariff tinkering of men whom it considers incapable of handling so difficult a question.

There is no need of criticism on the Mills tariff bill, since all of the parties are agreed that a reduction of federal taxation is imperatively necessary.

It will not do to term it a free trade measure, for it is almost too conservative. It will not alarm the voters to question the capacity of congress to cope with the issues, since they have practically done so to the satisfaction of the democratic party and a very large and intelligent portion of the republican party, not to speak of the intelligent people of other political beliefs.

Let us look at the tariff measure now before congress and see what it is:

The Mills bill proposes to cut off, in round numbers, $78,000,000 of the surplus revenue. Of this amount $54,000,000 is taken from the tariff and $24,000,000 from internal taxes on tobacco. It adds to the free list flax, hemp, jute, tin plate, wool and a few other articles.

The present average rate of the tariff on dutiable goods is 47.10 per cent. The Mills bill would leave it at 40 per cent. The present average rate on articles affected by the bill is 54.16 per cent. The proposed rate would leave it on these articles at 38.36 per cent.

This is the bill that is called a "Free Trade" measure! It leaves the average duty 10 per cent. higher than it was under the Morrill tariff of 1862, and within two points of what the average was in 1861 when a republican tariff commission recommended and a republican congress pretended to make a reduction of 20 per cent., which would have left the average duty 33.60 per cent.

The schedules of luxuries in the present tariff are left untouched. All the reductions are made on the essentials of manufacturers or the necessities of the people. It will be difficult to make intelligent voters believe that such a measure is of a "free trade" character, or that it will make them poorer or bring disaster to trade and commerce to lightly cut off tax burdens for which the government has no earthly, honest or legitimate use.

It is placing a small estimate on the intelligence of the reading public to assert that a protective tariff compels an employer to pay high wages, or that working men are benefitted by a tax that rolls up great fortunes for the few at the expense of the many, who are subjected to every possible extortion by these self same protected industries in the form of trusts and combinations organized solely to maintain unnatural prices and levy tribute on a credulous public who are absolutely at their mercy, with trust prices on one side and a protective tariff on the other to grind them down and rob them of the fruits of their labor.

All the Cities Err.

Columbia City Post.

The re-enumeration of school children in Fort Wayne reduced the number about 5,000. This means a difference of $12,000 in Allen county's apportionment, which amount will be distributed to every county in the state. It may prove a good thing for country towns—this stirring up—for there is no doubt but that all the large cities in the state have been to some extent guilty of the same work as that done in Fort Wayne.

Neither mind nor body can act healthfully, if the blood is vitiated. Cleanse the vital current from impurities by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This remedy purifies the blood, recruits the wasted energies, and restores health to the debilitated system.

THE NEW RAILROAD SHOPS.

The New York, Mahoning and Western road, or the United States Central, as it will be styled, is coming to Fort Wayne in spite of any predictions to the contrary, or the opposition that is always offered to great projects.

It will not cost the city or its people one penny to secure the line, but the company say, and rightly so, we need great shop plants; what will you bid for the improvements. A disinterested and trustworthy committee report their investigations and advise the people that the offerings of the company are worth far more than they ask—$200,000.

There ought to be no undue haste in this important proceeding, neither should the personal interests of any one be permitted to influence citizens against the shop projects of a road that is entirely reliable, honest and of such importance to Fort Wayne that the loss of its workshops would be a calamity far greater, indeed, than was the loss of the Baltimore and Ohio road and its shops, which are now located at Garrett, Ind.

Shop plants like this company offer are valuable and find big markets. The officers of the road are doing things in a hurry and they, in a business-like way, want to know what they can expect from Fort Wayne. It requires four weeks advance notice to secure a vote on public questions and as the company desires to begin work on their shops before winter, they urge prompt action.

It is for the people to say and THE SENTINEL feels that when they consult their best interests, the main shops of the United States Central line will be located in Fort Wayne.

A BLOW AT MONOPOLISTS.

The Ways and Means Committee Favors a Tax on Their Products.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The democratic members of the committee on ways and means have had under consideration the amendment proposed by Mr. Springer, of Illinois, to place upon the free list such articles on the dutiable list as are controlled as to their product and price by trusts and combinations, but did not report upon the subject to the caucus. It is understood that the committee is adverse to the proposition, although it recognize the necessity of legislation which will prevent the perpetuation of the spoil system. The argument against the Springer amendment is that it will be prejudicial to the interests of manufacturers of articles who have not entered into trusts. It is as yet undecided whether the internal tax will be levied to the full extent of the import duty, it being considered by some that a tax to the extent of 50 per cent. of the customs duties will be sufficient to prevent the formation of combinations.

A Great Battle

Is continually going on in the human system. The demon of impure blood strives to gain victory over the constitution, to ruin health, to drag victims to the grave. A good reliable medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla is the weapon with which to defend one's self, drive the desperate enemy from the field, and restore peace and bodily health for many years. Try this peculiar medicine.

The Perfection

Of the age in the medical line is the liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Co., San Francisco, Cal. It is agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach, harmless in its nature, painless yet prompt and thorough in its action. For sale by Thieme & Gross.

Give Ely's Cream Balm a trial. This justly celebrated remedy for the cure of catarrh, hay fever, cold in the head, etc., can be obtained of any reputable druggist, and may be relied upon as a safe and pleasant remedy for the above complaints and will give immediate relief. It is not a liquid, snuff or powder, has no offensive odor, and can be used at any time with good results, as thousands can testify, among them some of the attaches of this office."—Spirit of the Times.

Advice to Mothers.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. mar-17-1y

Some towns on the Pacific coast having boasted of the honesty of their officials, the remark was made that probably the remote location of Canada exercised a restraining influence.

You Carry

A whole medicine chest in your pocket, with one box of Ayer's Pills. As they operate directly on the stomach and bowels, they indirectly affect every other organ of the body. When the stomach is out of order, the head is affected, digestion fails, the blood becomes impoverished, and you fall an easy victim to any prevalent disease. Miss M. E. Boyle, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., puts the whole truth in a nutshell, when she says: "I use no other medicine than Ayer's Pills. They are all that any one needs, and just splendid to save money in doctors' bills."

Here is an instance of

who lost his medicine chest, but, having at hand a bottle of Ayer's Pills, found himself fully equipped.—J. Arrison, M. D., of San José, Cal., writes:

"Some three years ago, by the merest accident, I was forced, so to speak, to prescribe Ayer's Cathartic Pills for several sick men among a party of engineers in the Sierra Nevada mountains, my medicine chest having been lost in crossing a mountain torrent. I was surprised and delighted at the action of the Pills, so much so, indeed, that I was led to a further trial of them, as well as of your Cherry Pectoral and Sarsaparilla. I have nothing but praise to offer in their favor."

John W. Brown, M. D., of Oceana, W. Va., writes: "I prescribe Ayer's Pills in my practice, and find them excellent. I urge their general use in families."

T. E. Hastings, M. D., of Baltimore, Md., writes: "That Ayer's Pills do control and cure the complaints for which they are designed, is as conclusively proven to me as anything possibly can be. They are the best cathartic and aperient within the reach of the profession."

$500 REWARD

is offered by the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, for a case of Chronic Nasal Catarrh which they cannot cure.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.—Dull, heavy headache, obstruction of the nasal passages, discharges falling from the head into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; the eyes are weak, watery, and inflamed; there is ringing in the ears, deafness, hacking or coughing to clear the throat, expectoration of offensive matter, together with scabs from ulcers; the voice is changed and has a nasal twang; the breath is offensive; smell and taste are impaired; there is a sensation of dizziness, with mental depression, a hacking cough and general debility. Only a few of the above-named symptoms are likely to be present in any one case. Thousands of cases annually, without manifesting half of the above symptoms, result in consumption, and end in the grave. No disease is more common, more deceptive and dangerous, or less understood by physicians.

By its mild, soothing, and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases of Catarrh, "cold in the head," Coryza, and Catarrhal Headache.

Sold by druggists everywhere; 50 cents.

"Untold Agony from Catarrh."

Prof. W. HAUSNER, the famous mesmerist, of Ithaca, N. Y., writes: "Some ten years ago I suffered untold agony from chronic nasal catarrh. My family physician gave me up as incurable, and said I must die. My case was such a bad one, every day, towards sunset, my voice would become so hoarse I could barely speak above a whisper. In the morning my coughing and clearing of my throat would almost strangle me. By the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, in three months, I was a well man, and the cure has been permanent."

"Constantly Hawking and Spitting."

THOMAS J. RUSHING, Esq., cor. Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I was a great sufferer from catarrh for three years. At times I could hardly breathe, and was constantly hawking and spitting, and for the last month or more could not breathe through the nostrils. I thought nothing could be done for me. Luckily, I was advised to try Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and I am now a well man. I believe it to be the only sure remedy for catarrh now manufactured, and one has only to give it a fair trial to experience astounding results and a permanent cure."

Three Bottles Cure Catarrh.

ELI ROBBINS, Bumpus P. O., Columbia Co., Pa., says: "My daughter had catarrh when she was five years old, very badly. I saw Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy advertised, and procured a bottle for her, and soon saw that it helped her; a third bottle effected a permanent cure. She is now eighteen years old and sound and hearty."

NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE.

Remarkable Success of a Commission to Africa—Our Great Newspapers Becoming Famous for Skill, Enterprise and Daring.

The splendid enterprise and "go-ahead-ativeness" of our wonderful contemporary, The Daily Hair-raiser, is again made manifest by the successful issue of the commission, sent by it to South Africa, to determine conclusively the bottom facts in a most important question relating not only to Natural History but to Public Health and Welfare.

It has been a well known fact for thousands of years that the ostrich had the remarkable ability to not only eat, but to easily digest, the most crude and usually un-eatable articles—such as glass, spoons, bits of metal, sharp sticks, stones, stove lids, iron rails, etc., etc. The Daily Hair-raiser, therefore, determined to get at the real secret of the ostrich's peculiar digestive power, and has succeeded most wonderfully.

Having found an ostrich, after a long and perilous voyage across the Hudson, and a dangerous trip of 20 minutes on the elevated railroad, the reporter found the ostrich in the Central Park, making a hearty meal of two pecks of horse shoe nails, just given him. The following remarkable interview resulted:

Reporter.—"Would you object, Mrs. Ostrich, to tell the readers of the Daily Hair-raiser, the real secret of your wonderful appetite, and still more wonderful digestion?

Ostrich.—"Certainly not, young man, but you must be away behind the times if you don't already know. It is simple, very simple. A missionary from Connecticut (who was unfortunately eaten, and can't swear to what I tell you,) brought a lot of Scotch Oats Essence to Africa many years ago, and we all took it. From that time dates our remarkable appetite and wonderful digestive powers."

My friend you can have

and eat and digest anything, if you will use Scotch Oats Essence. Worth $50 a bottle. $1 will buy it from any druggist.

Scotch Oats Essence is the only advertised remedy in the world that gives an absolute $10,000 forfeit guarantee upon each bottle that it does not contain a particle of opium, morphine, or any other narcotic.

How to Dance the Carmagnole.

The "Carmagnole," it will be remembered, is the song sung by the old women, the tricoteuses, as they danced around the scaffold in 1793. It is a song of fierce and fearful import. It's old words were revolutionary, but new verses have been written that have an economic rather than a political bearing. They breathe war to the middleman, the "sweater," to those who build fortunes with the labor of others, and do not themselves produce anything. To dance the "Carmagnole" effectively it is generally customary to select some youth with a loud, sinister, contralto voice. The youth takes his stand on the stage or high platform. A woman with regular features, tall, commanding figure, is then called upon to take the lead in the dance. It is preferable that she should have a tight-fitting, severe, plain black dress, devoid of any sort of ornaments. If she has abundant fair tresses, these are allowed to fall down the back. This simplicity may be taken as a homage paid to the naturalism that prevades modern schools of thought. The black dress is emblemic of mourning for the brothers that still languish in prison or who have fallen behind the barricades, but perhaps the red scarf of the Commune is loosely fastended across the breast, and, in any case a Phrygian cap, after the model worn in 1793, with wild tassels dangling from either side, is carefully poised on the head, and this completes a very effective and classical costume.

A woman thus dressed forms the center of the dance. She stands absolutely alone and does not dolgn to take a partner. Her partner is the huge red flag which, with strong arm and determined gesture, she holds aloft. The boy with the sinister voice then commences to sing the first verse of the "Cormagnole." There may be several thousand persons present, and yet the silence is such, the attention so intense, that every breath is drawn with precaution for fear of making a noise. But when the verse had been sung and the chorus is reached it is taken up by the people at first with a slow, low murmur. The central figure commences to turn and a circle of four men and women holding hands go around her in a contrary direction. Then there is another larger and yet another still larger circle, till the largest of all touches the wall on either side of the hall. These circles within circles all go round in reverse directions; the first to the left, the second to the right, the third to the left, the fourth to the right, and so on; while the woman in black with her red flag standing in the center, turns slowly round and forms a living pivot. As the crowd turns, it sings louder and louder, till at last in frenzied excitement, what with shouting and stamping, they make the walls shake, the windows vibrate, and the very stones themselves tremble on their foundations, and seem to participate in the revolutionary dance. It is at once an impressive and a threatening sight. It is at such moments that one may realize the excitability of the French people; and on the whole if I were a Jay Gould or a Rothschild, I should prefer not to be recognized while the "Carmagnole" was sung.—Paris letter in Philadelphia Telegraph.

Lucrative Calling for Women.

Women of muscle stand quite as good if not a better chance of making money than women of mind. There are in this city several brawny specimens of the sex, usually designated as soft, who make from $60 to $70 a week as "scrub ladies." One of them, whose house is on Mulberry street, has in her charge the offices of twenty well-known professional men. For cleaning and taking care of these she receives $3 each per week. She employs two able-bodied assistants, who receives $1 a day each. Allowing $3 a week for the use of soap, brooms, etc., it will be seen that this enterprising mistress of the brush and pail clears $45 a week.—New York Press.

Passengor (to stranger)—Minister of the Gospel, I imagine, sir? Stranger—Yes, sir. I have been a minister of the Gospel for forty-two years, but I expect to retire soon. Passengor—That is a sensible move, sir. I think when a man has made money enough in his business he ought to get out of it and enjoy himself.—New York Sun.

A Thief Caught by a Bear.

The following, which is said to have happened near Los Augeles, is too good to be lost. An Italian, who was traveling through the country with a bear which he had trained to wrestle and dance, stopped before a farmer's house late one afternoon, and after amusing the family with his performances, obtained permission to stay all night. The bear was placed in the barn for safe keeping. During the night the family were aroused by a terrible noise in the barn. Some one was screaming, "Murder! Help!" and apparently engaged in a struggle for his life.

The farmer hastened to the spot, followed by the Italian and others of the house, and found the tame bear with a man in his embrace, hugging him tightly, while the poor fellow struggled frantically to escape. The bear was muzzled and could do no serious injury, though the man was very uncomfortably situated.

The man proved to be a dishonest butcher who had come to the barn to steal a fine calf. In the darkness he had stumbled over the bear, who had seized him and held him fast. The Italian, learning how matters stood, called out, "Hug him, Jack," and the bear continued to hug him unmercifully until the farmer concluded that he had been sufficiently punished, when he was released. The story soon spread abroad, and the butcher left the neighborhood to escape the ridicule to which it subjected him.—San Pedro Clipper.

A Pointer for Drummers.

Two fresh New York drummers had an experience on an Erie train at Carrollton, Pa., recently not soon to be forgotten. They were dressed like swells, and saw two extremely pretty girls got on the train at a way station. The seat behind the girls was vacant, and the drummers quickly got into it. They went to work at once. The girls affected not to notice the mashers. The attention of every passenger was directed to the young men.

Becoming bolder, they leaned over the back of the seat and whispered to the young women. One girl was a tall and well-formed blonde, with hair the tint of a June sunset. The other a bewitching brunette with bangs, was short, stout, and full of animal life. Vainly did the drummers play their best cards. The game refused to be bagged. Just as the situation was becoming unendurable a uniformed trainman popped his head into the car and sang out: "Carrollton! Change for Bradford."

With flushed faces and eyes that sparkled with indignation the young women jumped to their feet. The drummers jumped up, too. The blonde turned, and, in a tone heard all over the car, said: "I hope I never will have to ride in front of two such fools again."

Out on the long station platform a short and athletic young man was waiting. One of the young ladies kissed him. Then there was a whispered consultation. The athletic young man left the ladies and entered the car. Addressing himself to the mashers, he said:

"A gentleman wants to see you outside."

"We have no business here, fellow," languidly lisped one of the fellows.

"Well, then, if you will not go out I will do the business up right here."

And he did. His two fists flew out like lightning. The claret was drawn from the noses of both of the dudes, blood was scattered over their gay low-cut waistcoats, and a dark spot began to form under two eyes. The train pulled out, the athletic young man jumped off amid the cheers of the passengers, and the drummers slunk into the smoking car and washed their faces.

The athletic young man was Eddie Boyle, who keeps a hotel and store at Carrollton. The brunette was his wife, the blonde his sister.

Odd Traits of Locomotive Engines.

"Locomotives are cranks," said an old engineer the other day. "Why, I remember two engines that came from the same shop about a year ago, were made from the same castings, were put together by the same workmen; but one of the two engines wouldn't budge an inch faster than fifteen miles an hour, while her companion could easily roll off sixty miles an hour under half the steam it took to send the other engine fifteen miles an hour. We crowded every pound of steam upon the fifteen-miler; but no, she wouldn't go an inch faster, although she would draw four more heavily loaded freight cars than the engine that rolled up sixty miles an hour to her credit.

"Suddenly the fifteen-miler came to a dead stop between stations, and there she stuck and could'nt" be made to move again. Almost at the same time the sixty-miler, on another portion of the road, came to a dead stop also, and she couldn't be made to move. Both engines were drawn back to the shop, were taken apart, examined, put together again; but no, they could not be made to move, even under 150 pounds of steam. Stop running they would, and stop running they did, although both of them are not a year old. Finally they were broken up and sold for old junk. It's not always the bright, new engine you see that is the best. In the round house we have some old tubs, out of fashion, that can and do beat the new engines in speed and drawing capacity every day, and are always reliable.—Safety Valve.

SURGEON GENERAL W. A. HAMMOND says we can each prolong our life if we learn the secret thereof. WHAT IS THIS SECRET? If you soak a sponge in oil, the sponge will have in it all the peculiarities of the oil. So every organ in the body contains all the peculiarities of the blood. If the kidneys, the only blood purifiers, do no clean the blood of the waste of the system, then the various organs will give out and you will have RHEUMATISM, MALARIA, HEADACHES, AGUE, CHILLS AND FEVER, IMPOTENCY, BLADDER DISEASES, LAME BACK, NEURALGIA, NERVOUSNESS, BAD EYES, STOMACH TROUBLES, BOILS, CARBUNCLES, ABSCESSES, APPOPLEXY, PARALYSIS and in women FEMALE TROUBLES. The secret of good health then lies in keeping the kidneys well. If you don't, you can't cure any of the above diseases. You may not suspect it, but eight persons out of every ten have some form of kidney derangement. The only scientific blood purifier is the famous WARNER'S SAFE CURE, which not only cures kidney diseases, but the majority of ailments which really come from unsuspected kidney disease.

ECHOES OF THE RAIL.

The News and Gossip of the Day as It Comes From the Railroads and Manufactories.

To-day is the last day of the month.

The new railroad shops are all the talk.

There was an excursion to Rome City this morning.

The employes of the shops enjoyed their day off yesterday.

The work on the new Pennington machine works in Nebraska is in progress.

The railroads will commence selling excursion tickets to St. Louis Saturday.

The candidates for county office are now hustling among the boys in the shops.

The Muncie road is selling excursion tickets to the democratic convention at St. Louis.

The addition of railroad shops employing 1,800 men, to the city would be a big boom. "Think of it."

The safety record of the railroads was broken again this morning by the killing of the man in the east end of the city, on the Pittsburg track.

J. Finlayson is acting as oiler at the Pittsburg shops during the absence of John Murphy, who was injured in a runaway accident last evening.

John Murphy was injured in a runaway accident last evening, and will not be able to resume his position in the Pittsburg machine shops for some days.

The employes of the White wheel works will commence working eleven hours a day to-morrow. Business at this establishment is booming this summer.

George Herring, of the Olds wheel works, failed to report for duty this morning. He sent word to his foreman that he was going to be married this evening.

The employes of White's wheel works turned out in a body yesterday to attend the funeral of Delmar Felts. The deceased was an employe of that establishment.

Will Martin, formerly of the Pennington machine works, left at noon to-day for Los Angeles, Cal., where he will accept a position in one of the railroad shops of the city.

The annual report of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago road shows that its income for the year 1887 was $11,269,963.10, and operating and maintaining expenses, $6,983,027.86.

The machine department of the Bass works are now running a full force of ten night men and this part of the works is kept as busy as they can be. The night force has been working for over a week.

Fish stories were numerous among the shop employes this morning. Almost every other person our reporter met in his early morning rounds either had a fish story or talked about the games of base ball that were played yesterday.

Otto Benz, who is working on the night force in the Bass machine shops, met with a very cold water mishap last night. He had occasion to go into the boiler room, which is quite dark, after something and while groping around fell into a huge tank of water and was thoroughly soaked with water up to the waist. He donned an old pair of pants and remained at work until morning. Such episodes as these are amusing to the night gang at the Bass works.

It was reported early this morning that the man killed at the coal wharf by the Pittsburg fast train was Ed Loomis, the assistant electrician and the well-known employe of the Pennsylvania company. Our reporter heard this among the first rumors in regard to the accident, but when he reached the shops he found Ed alive and well and one of the healthiest-looking corpses that could be imagined. Ed says the man killed was not himself and was so emphatic in his assertion that our reporter was forced to believe his statements.

The record of train accidents in the United States, published monthly by the Railroad Gazette, shows that in April there was a total of 186 accidents, in which forty-two persons were killed and 191 injured. The most fruitful source seems to have been collisions, which is certainly not very complimentary to the men in charge. Eighteen accidents occurred through misplaced switches, three being malicious. Of the forty-two persons killed, thirty-three were employes on the roads. In the accidents, forty-six passenger trains were involved, and ninety freight and construction trains. In comparison with last year's accident report there were increases in every item, including number of persons killed.

An old Pennsylvania railroad locomotive has been remodeled and fitted with a device for burning gas made from petroleum. There is a sheet-iron storage tank with a capacity of four and one-half barrels on the rear of the tender, and the oil passes from this into a rectangular retort with a fire box under it. A small vertical boiler, with thirteen tubes, is in connection with the fire box of the retort and completes the arrangement for manufacturing the gas. The gas and also two steam jets are introduced into the locomotive fire box. The first trial of the apparatus showed that some modification of details was required, but that is was possible to get up steam in much less time than with coal, and that the steam pressure could be easily maintained by the gas.

For the past week, Messrs. Wm. Rich & Co. have been busily engaged in remodeling their ice box, by removing the tar paper from walls. There was some complaint from the fact that the odor of the paper affected the meat. This trouble is now entirely obviated and a fresh stock of meat put in. To-morrow they will receive their sixth consignment of beef from Chicago, which they guarantee to be the finest meat in the market. They will also receive a lot of trout and white fish for Friday's trade.

THE NEW TRUNK LINE.

Points About the New York, Mahoning and Western Road Coming to Fort Wayne.

The proposition of the New York, Mahoning and Western road to locate its main construction shops in this city, was freely discussed last night and is still the topic. Every one concedes that the company mean business, and yet others hesitate to vote aid in view of past experiences.

All people concede that in view of the oft recurring and spasmodic reductions in the railroad shops and manufactories, the city ought to substantially encourage a movement to secure shops of the great dimensions offered, for with these advantages mechanics would not be forced out of town to seek employment at each dismissal or suspension in this or some other shop. It would enlarge our resources and possibilities to such an extent as to ensure safety to the toiling masses at all times.

Speaking of the new road the Ottawa Sentinel says:

J. M. Ashley & Son, of Toledo, have the contract for furnishing 200,000 ties, and will deliver them immediately, the first forty car loads having arrived at Ottawa this week.

The new road, when completed, will run so straight that at no point between New York and Omaha will not vary twenty-five miles from the forty-first parallel.

The contracts call for the completion of the road for a distance of one hundred and eighty-eight miles—from Plymouth, Ohio, to Fort Wayne, Ind.—by October 1, 1888.

Omaha is the objective point of the New York, Mahoning and Western railroad westward.

The first locomotive for the new road arrived in Ottawa last week and will be used in hauling the construction train on this part of the line.

The King Bridge Co., of Toledo, has the contract for building several bridges in this county for the road. On its present line, four bridges will be required over the Blanchard river.

Last week several car loads of mules, plows, scrapers, &c., arrived at Ottawa from the south to be used in the construction of the new railroad, and during the present week another train load will arrive.

Two car loads of negroes arrived at Ottawa last week from Memphis, Tenn., to work on the new railroad.

The work of grading is progressing rapidly, and iron enough to lay twenty-five miles of the road has arrived at Ottawa during the past eight days. The failure of the arrival of ties has interfered with the work of track laying for a few days.

A million dollars' worth of steel rails has been purchased to lay the track from Red Bank, Pa., to Fort Wayne, Ind.

Ottawa being the base of supplies and point of commencement of the work on the new railroad, has made things remarkably lively for the past week, the town being filled with strangers and every branch of industry and trade is moving at a rapid rate.

ON THE DOOR STEP.

An Infant is Left on the Door Step of Mr. Philip Rupp Last Night.

It was near the midnight hour, and most of the residents of East Creighton avenue had retired to sleep, when a young woman carrying an infant in her arms came up Hanna street and turned onto Creighton avenue. She was poorly clad, and as she wandered along her eyes watched each residence as she passed, looking, it seemed to the watcher, for the home of a friend. Finally she paused in front of the home of Mr. Philip Rupp, 128 East Creighton avenue. She entered the gate with a timid air, approached the house and laid the bundle that she carried in her arms upon the door step, and then fled out the gate and up the deserted street with the fleetness of a frightened fawn.

There was a watcher of her actions from the window above. It was Mr. Martin Lill, the bartender for Mr. Ph. Graf, who boards at the house and who was just retiring for the night. He saw her every movement, but did not dream the object of her mission until, looking out of the window, he saw the little babe upon the door step.

He described the woman to THE SENTINEL reporter, this morning, as he saw her in the bright starlight, as young and fair, but dressed in a common old calico dress, but says that she was a person he never saw before. He hurriedly aroused Mr. and Mrs. Graf and the little baby girl was taken into the house and is now being tenderly cared for. It is a beautiful child, about two weeks old. Mr. and Mrs. Graf do not desire to keep the babe, and it will be turned over to the proper authorities unless some of their neighbors should see fit to adopt it.

The woman is undoubtedly some misguided unfortunate, who, to conceal her shame, sought in this way to secure a home for her illegitimate child.
